Verdict Is Changed To Murder Junk Dealer Held In Boy's Hanging

SARATOGA SPRINGS (AP) — A young, heavy-set junk collector is charged with first-degree murder in the hanging of 11-year-old Peter Curran, whose death had been called accidental.

State police yesterday arrested Donald C. Smith, 23, of Ballston Lake. He was arraigned before a peace justice and ordered held for a grand jury.

Section Aroused

Official statements that the boy's death was accidental had aroused residents of Ballston Lake, the boy's home. They charged the Saratoga County sheriff, Wesley DeVoe, with "incompetency" in his investigation. A coroner had issued a certificate of accidental death.

Carlton J. King, Saratoga County district attorney, said last night Smith admitted in a statement that he hanged the Curran boy July 20 from a tree near the boy's home. King said Smith was afraid the boy "would tell his parents about a sex act he had committed with the boy."

That act was sodomy, King said.

Hands Were Tied

Peter was found hanging from the limb of a tree in a wooded lot. He was cut down by his family.

The coroner, Dr. Roland Faulkner, said the boy evidently had tied a rope around his hands and neck while at play in a tree and had lost his footing.

Villagers claimed they could not see how a boy could hang himself with his hands tied.

75 Sign for State Probe

They met last week and said they would demand a state investigation. More than 75 persons signed a petition saying they did not believe the boy's death was accidental.

But King maintained last night that state police had been working on the case all along. And, King said, the meeting of the residents "almost spoiled things for us and forced us to move a lot quicker than we had planned." He did not elaborate.

Caught Near Rochester

Smith was arrested in Henrietta, near Rochester. He had left his Ballston Lake home, about four miles from the Curran residence, a week ago last Friday, King said.

King said that Smith, a 6-foot, 190-pounder, was parked in a car near the Curran house when he saw the boy playing alone in the yard.

Used Toy Gun Strap

Smith took the boy into the woods where he committed the sex act, King said. Acting in fear that Peter would tell his parents what had happened, he tied the boy's hands behind his back with a strap from the boy's toy rifle, King said. He hanged the boy with a noose fashioned from a clothesline he found in the yard, King said.

The boy's body was found about an hour later.

Smith, who is unmarried, lives with his mother, stepfather, brother and two sisters. He waived examination at his arraignment before Peace Justice John Sebastian of the town of Ballston.

King said Smith had been questioned by the sheriff's department.

Slot Machine Case Dismissed

Tsitsera Not Informed Of Rights, Judge Says

Charges against an Ulster Park poultryman and ex-service man were dismissed on a technicality Monday night by Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen Jr., of Port Ewen but the dismissal was followed by a storm of charges placing blame for the error.

Two-hundred and fifty people jammed town hall, Port Ewen, for the scheduled jury trial of Milton G. Tsitsera on a charge of illegal possession of slot machines.

Probe of Camps In State Fails To Bare Peonage

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Harriman said today that investigations of upstate migrant labor camps by the State Health and Labor Departments uncovered "no evidence of anything like slave camps or peonage."

The governor told a news conference that the agencies had found violations of the labor or health laws in 264 of the approximately 1,000 camps but that all of the violations had been corrected.

The governor also said that the state had dealt with recent complaints by the National Association of Colored People against camps in central New York. An NAACP official said two weeks ago he had found "blatant and widespread violations" of the law in several camps.

Brands Criticism Silly

In commenting on other subjects, Harriman said:

1. Branded as "pretty silly," recent sharp criticism of Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio by Roger Tubby, former press secretary to President Truman and Adlai Stevenson.

2. Asserted that opposition to the proposed constitutional convention of 1959 centered in "certain groups in the Republican Party who have carved out for themselves little kingdoms and are fearful that it might disturb their vested interests."

3. Said he had no plans for joining the fray in the New York City mayoral campaigns next fall, but "if candidates want me to come in, I'll go."

4 Patrolmen Enter Pleas Of Innocent to Charges

Three regular patrolmen and a special officer indicted Aug. 20 on burglary charges as the result of a full probe of the department, ordered in July, pleaded innocent before County Judge Louis G. Bruhn this morning.

The four, last week, surrendered themselves, District Attorney Howard C. St. John said, after sealed indictments were returned, charging burglary third degree, unlawful entry and petit larceny.

Last week's indictment brought the total to seven, since the arrest of Patrolman Joseph Keller, 23, of 512 Delaware Avenue, and Special Officer Gerard McCloskey, 29, of 40 Condie Street, last July 10, touched off the full-scale probe.

Soviets Claim Super-Rocket; Congress Skeptical of Missile

Blackmail Is Charge Of Senator Ballistic Claim Is Not Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said today the Russians are engaging in "ballistic blackmail" in announcing they have tested successfully an intercontinental missile.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) said the ultimate step in the propaganda use of this weapon.

But Symington said in Miami Beach that "in the past, we have all noticed that when they (the Russians) say they have something in the way of this type of weapons, it turned out later to be fact."

Arouses Interest

At the Pentagon, the Russian claim aroused intense interest but no public comment. However, there was no disposition by defense officials to disparage the Soviet claim.

Although the United States has never successfully launched an Intercontinental Ballistic Missile one with a planned range of 5,000 miles or so, it has fired shorter range ballistic type weapons.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, who stepped out recently as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, has said the American program to develop long range missiles is a good one. He said he was satisfied with it.

Some members of Congress were skeptical of the Soviet claim, but Rep. Patterson (R-Conn.) did not share this view.

Protest Fund Cutback

"We who serve on the House Armed Services Committee have been repeatedly warned by our own military authorities that the court feels that to permit this case to go to trial would be an injustice and would be depriving the defendant of his proper rights."

Judge Palen ordered all charges dismissed. He further ordered that the two slot machines "known as Black Hawk, serial number 154762, and Bronx Chief, serial number 152325, now in the custody of the State Police be destroyed."

Judge Palen stated, "the defendant was not so informed, and while the defense counsel failed to notice this omission, this court feels that to permit this case to go to trial would be an injustice and would be depriving the defendant of his proper rights."

"I have vigorously protested against the proposed 10 per cent cutback in funds for the guided missile research and development program. This is the worst kind of false economy."

Aid Foes Ready For Uphill Fight To Cut Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign aid opponents mobilized for an uphill fight today to try to wipe out a $500,000,000 increase over House appropriations for military and economic aid abroad.

These forces, headed by Sens. Ellender (D-La) and Russell (D-Ga), made their stand against the united opposition of Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Senate Republican leader Knowland of California.

The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday voted 14-7 for a bill carrying $3,692,710,000 in new and reappropriated money for this fiscal year which began July 1.

This figure was $308,750,000 below the ceilings in the recently-enacted authorization bill, and $747,500,000 under the $4,440,210,000 Eisenhower originally asked in new and reappropriated money.

Subject to New Cuts

If sustained by the Senate, the committee's total would be subject to further cuts in a conference with the House. Indications are the compromise might end up about midway between House and Senate totals.

Rep. Passman (D-La), who was a leading House member of the House-Senate conference committee, served notice that he will fight for a sizable cut below the indicated Senate figure.

Passman told a newsman that since the House voted by a 2-1 margin for its bill it won't agree to go much higher. The suggested that the House conferees might okay another 100 million dollars, more or less, because of adjournment pressure.

"If we should recede any substantial amount the House would knock us down flat," Passman said. "The House is just not in that mood" to okay higher foreign spending.

Ellender said he would center his main fight in the Senate against a committee recommendation for an increase of 225 million dollars, to $1,475,000,000, in new appropriations for military aid—planes, tanks, guns and other military hardware.

To Seek Roll Votes

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he would seek roll call votes on two other Senate committee amendments both he and Ellender oppose.

One would raise the allowances for defense supports from the $85 million dollars in new money voted by the House to $89 millions. Defense support money involves economic aid to enable allies to sustain stronger military forces.

The other amendment opposed by Russell and Ellender would raise appropriations this year for a new fund to make long-range loans for economic development abroad. The committee boosted the House total of 300 million dollars for this fund to 400 millions.

"I see no justification whatsoever for continuing to pour increasing sums of money into these programs," Russell told newsmen. "It's a deplorable situation when the greatest nation on earth has no foreign policy other than to spend their own money on their defenses."

May Stay Long Time

"I'm happy here and I may stay for a long time after I finish my education," said Wills, who told a western reporter a year ago that he was thinking of returning to the United States in perhaps five or ten years.

But now, he said, "I have no plans to go home."

Wills, who was captured in Korea in 1951, said he is just embarking on a five-year schedule at Peiping University.

No Soviet Domination

President Ma Yen-chu of Peiping University, who also spoke to the young American visitors, said that some Americans believe China is dominated by the Soviet Union.

"That is not true," he said. "We are developing independently. Do not forget that I as a university president am not a student returned from the Soviet Union. I am a returned student from America."

Ma Yen-chu said he was graduated from Yale in 1910—with Robert Taft (the late Senate Republican leader.)

This dispatch was filed from Peiping to The Associated Press by Frederic Grab, a 22-year-old member of the American delegation who accepted the Red China invitation.

The action apparently means the bill has no chance of passage before Congress adjourns, which may occur this week.

The committee broke off a public session without hearing all scheduled witnesses.

Then Chairman Olin Johnston (D-SC) said he did not see how the committee could continue the meetings this session in view of the crush of windup business. Sen. Carlson (R-Kan), senior Republican on the group, concurred.

Carlson suggested the committee hold additional hearings in November and December to prepare a bill for introduction early in the 1958 session. Johnston indicated he would look with favor on this.

The orders are effective Wednesday morning.

Before coming to Kingston he was stationed at Sidney, headquarters for Troop C.

Trooper Shurter said today that he had enjoyed his tour in Kingston tremendously and regretted leaving the area, although the Wurtsboro assignment brings him closer to his family in Kerhonkson.

He is reported to be participating in that.

Another grand jury report is expected between now and Sept. 3. District Attorney St. John said, and he noted last week that trials date for those who have been arraigned, to date, would be set early in September.

All who have been indicted thus far in the probe are under $500 cash or $1,000 property bail.

Besides Keller and McCloskey, and the four recently indicted, Special Officer Robert FitzGibbon, 24, of Colonial Gardens, was indicted on a charge separate from the others, for alleged theft of tires. Burglary indictments, including those against Szymanski and the Baniewski brothers, now total 10.

Teamsters Confer On Answer to Corrupt Charges

LOS ANGELES (P)—This is a day of decision on which the Teamsters Union executive board considers how to answer AFL-CIO charges that it is under corrupt influences.

After yesterday's secret board session, President Dave Beck told reporters no action had been taken on the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee report on the Teamsters. He added:

"That should be taken care of at tomorrow's session."

To Study Charges

"A committee of attorneys that has been appointed to study the list of charges will come in tomorrow with a recommendation. The board will then make its decision on what policy the Teamsters will adopt."

Beck said the Teamsters definitely plan to respond to the charges when the Ethical Practices Committee meets Sept. 5-6 in Washington, D. C.

But he said the board hasn't decided whether to do this by letter or by a personal appearance before the committee.

The AFL-CIO Executive Committee meets Sept. 24-25 to decide whether to oust the 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union from the merged labor movement.

Photographers' New Association Elects Reynolds

Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., operator of Tom Reynolds Photo Studio, Broadway, and on Partition Street, Saugerties, was elected president of the newly organized Ulster Association of Professional Photographers last week, it was announced today.

Frank H. Lauppe of Pennington

Studio was named vice president and David L. Fletcher of Photo Workshop was designated secretary-treasurer.

Seek Legislation
The new group is interested in some type of local legislation to license professional photographers in order to curb fraudulent type door-to-door soliciting for photographic services, Mr. Reynolds said.

Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Fletcher were appointed on a committee to study such legislation.

"Since merchandise is not delivered at the time pictures are taken, the photographic business is subject to all types of fraudulent devices and schemes which bilk the public," Mr. Reynolds said.

"Being owners of established businesses, we are extremely concerned that unethical practices will leave an unfavorable impression with the public."

Cite Aims
"One of the purposes of the organization is to maintain the highest possible type of ethical standards in the profession and to demonstrate the unwavering integrity of locally established professional photographers," he said.

Regular meetings will be held the first Thursday of each month.

CASH FOR COLLEGE

Temporarily, at least, the pressing problems of financing the great growth of America's elementary and secondary schools have been left to the states and cities. The widely held view that they can manage the matter will now be tested.

Hard on the heels of this difficulty, however, comes the question of how to keep pace with the vastly expanding college population in America.

In its recent report, the President's committee on higher education forecast a doubling of college enrollments by 1970 to some six million students. The obvious question: Where will they find a place?

Present colleges and universities could not possibly accommodate them. And the nation has only 13 years to make ready for this engulfing tide. When one realizes how long America's existing college "plant" has been building, he can gain some idea of the problem's size.

Unless hundreds of thousands of young Americans are to be deprived of the college training they need and want more and more, the country must plan now for their storming of the college gates.

Mr. Eisenhower's committee has some useful suggestions:

Faculty salaries need to be hiked up to 80 per cent to attract teachers in sufficient number and quality to bear the rising load.

Students—or their parents—should get marked help in meeting the expenses of schooling. This could include tax deductions for school outlays, and more credit facilities for students.

Congress ought to encourage bigger financial contributions from private sources by making the tax laws on the subject more favorable. And it could well continue college housing loans and other existing educational aids.

Except for these last proposals, though, the group does not grapple hard with the fundamental matter: Who is to provide the money for so huge an expansion of the country's college establishment?

Clearly, digging up such sums can't be left to chance, or the high level training of countless young Americans may be a dream unfulfilled. If to get a sensible financing plan means another tour of duty for the President's committee, then most citizens would say: "Let's have it."

When actress Vivien Leigh was ejected from the House of Lords for breaking a rule against outsiders speaking she at least proved that although a woman doesn't always get her way she can hardly be stopped from having her say.

The idea of the U.S. government sending toothbrushes and toothpaste to Morocco for use by 12,000 Arab highway workers is championed as a contribution to international friendship. But what if they don't like the taste of the toothpaste?

POLITICAL DYNAMITE

Besides other dangers, the inflationary spiral which appears to be seizing our economy is political dynamite. National political campaigns are largely decided on bread and butter issues. When the pocketbooks of millions are either hit by inflation or emptied by depression, the party in power and the man in the White House will suffer where politicians suffer most acutely—at the polls. This is of crucial political importance.

A continued price rise could sink the Republicans almost as though the GOP were a political Titanic. If the damages of the inflationary price rise are severe enough, then inflation may become the all-embracing issue of the 1960 presidential campaign.

Everyone can test statements about prices, inflation, wages at the nearest supermarket. If the supermarket test is gloomy in 1958, and more so in 1960, then there will be a strong possibility of Democratic victory.

This is A, B, C; it is the simplest politi-

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY
THE NATIONALIST ERA

What is happening in Syria is a result of the aroused nationalism in Arabic countries which Soviet Russia did not foment but of which the Kremlin has taken full advantage. Nationalism has triumphed universally, the United States being the sole exception. Thus empires fall, countries are partitioned, colonies rise to independence, the earth is becoming more and more fragmented.

Already nationalism has destroyed the British, French and Dutch empires. Soviet Russia is stimulating nationalism while developing an empire, with what results we shall in due course see. The United States, which favors internationalism suicidally, is so deeply committed to the cost in wealth and life of a permanent military establishment, that it will have to revert to nationalism to maintain the morale of its people. Flags will fly again on the Fourth of July.

Professor Hans J. Morgenthau defines the concept of nationalism as follows:

"The idea of nationalism, both in its historic origins and in its political functions it has performed, is intimately connected with the idea of freedom and shares the latter's ambiguity. Nationalism as a political phenomenon must be understood as the aspiration for two freedoms, one collective, the other individual: the freedom of a nation from domination by another nation and the freedom of the individual to join the nation of his choice."

This is a correct view of the subject, the danger, however, always being that those countries which become most nationalistic tend, in time, to conquer, repress and subordinate their neighbors and set off on the route of imperialism. Thus, although it is not so many years since Dr. Sun Yat-sen described China as a semi-colony, Red China, once it regarded itself as established, conquered Tibet and an area of Burma and has been pressing upon all its neighbors. Tito has not followed this pattern, probably out of fear of Soviet Russia but within the Communist world, Titoism means not only nationalistic Communism but also the possibility of the danger of a grouping of anti-Russian Communist countries that might, in time, form a league or an association of states.

The monarchy was never really nationalistic. After all, kings and queens belonged to families not to nations and before most of them lost their thrones in Europe, they were cousins of one sort or another. The British Royal Family, which has survived all the revolutionary changes in Europe, now called the House of Windsor, descends from the German Electress, Sophia of Hanover who was herself a Stuart. The two predecessor families of the House of Windsor were the House of Hanover and the House of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha. The Russian Royal Family was mostly German and Danish, Nicholas II of Russia and George V of Great Britain resembled each other closely.

In a word, nationalism developed outside the royal households and in due course, upset monarchies and established what came to be called democracies. Napoleon destroyed some 200 dynastic sovereignties, because when these principalities and dukedoms could neither protect their boundaries nor maintain internal order, they ceased to be of any value. Whenever that happened, a nation appeared which either stood on its own feet because it could or was absorbed by some other nation because it could not stand on its own feet.

The same process is going on in the areas which were once either parts or protectorates of European empires. The battle for Oman looked picturesque but really it was a reflex of Saudi Arabian nationalism, the stimulating effects of Egyptian nationalism, the stirring of Islam from Russia's revolutionary tactics, the desire to find increasing national liberty by economic development on a national scale.

The Syrian people are now intensely nationalistic. But Syria, as it has before in history, became dependent upon Egypt which now has a working alliance with Soviet Russia after having freed itself from the overlordship of Great Britain. Syria has no strength to defend its boundaries. Therefore it moves as Egypt moves. The Syrian government not only cannot defend its own borders but cannot maintain order within those borders. So, it has been forced to capitulate to Russian imperialism as a response to internal challenges.

As Professor Morgenthau says:

"... Free nations had only one enemy, and he was common to all of them: the dynastic oppressor of their freedom, individual and collective."

Bed Wetting at Ages 3-4

May Signal Insecurity

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

All parents of small children are interested in how soon and how well their youngsters acquire control over their bladder and bowel functions.

Mrs. S. asks for a discussion of this. Another Mrs. S. wants to know whether children should be allowed to go two or three days without a bowel movement.

Before discussing the subject in general, I should say that it is probably not good for most children to go several days without normal bowel emptying. However, establishment of a laxative habit is also undesirable. So if this happens often, medical help is indicated.

A healthy baby usually begins to establish bowel control between one and two years old. When the baby is nine or 10 months old it can be placed for short periods on the "potty." This should be done at first with the child lying down.

THE "POTTY" should be used regularly at the same time of day, usually after the first morning meal. The mother and the baby should not be worn out by keeping it up too long.

Any child enjoys cleanliness and likes to be praised. The parents should not scold when the infant fails. Once control is established and the child is a little older, the responsibility for the bowels should be placed on the child.

Small babies the process of emptying the bladder is automatic. As soon as the bladder is stretched to a certain point, the nerves carry the message to the spinal cord and the bladder is automatically emptied.

RATHER gradually the sensation of a full bladder begins to be carried up to the brain itself. When this develops, it is possible for the child to control urination. Until the message is received in the brain, however, it is useless to expect a baby to have control over his bladder functions.

Bladder control comes slowly. Parents should not be concerned if their hopeful does not develop complete control as soon as some other child.

SOMETIMES a child wets during the day or night at three or four years old, or even beyond. Usually, this is a sign of either rebellion on the part of the child or a feeling of insecurity.

Sometimes such children have had the importance of keeping dry overemphasized. They take delight in frustrating their parents. When this is the reason, the parents ought to pay less attention to the whole thing and to show no signs of annoyance when "enuresis," as it is called, occurs. This is often enough to solve the problem.

"Isn't It a Custom Here to Have Many Wives?"

Washington News

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

Christian Herter has now been undersecretary of state for six months without making a visible booboo. When John Foster Dulles is out of town, Herter automatically becomes acting secretary of state, a situation which has existed a total of nearly two months during the last six.

If Herter's performance so far doesn't set some kind of booboo record in this important job, it at least justifies the confidence Ike has in the tall, serious, slightly stooped Bostonian when he appointed him.

Herter was a U. S. congressman from Massachusetts and a governor of that state for six months without making a visible booboo. When John Foster Dulles is out of town, Herter automatically becomes acting secretary of state, a situation which has existed a total of nearly two months during the last six.

Herter has done none of those things, to the disappointment of men who seek to push him on to greater things.

THE ONE BIG reservation about Herter, which even his most ardent fans shared when he took the job at State, was his health. He has suffered from arthritis, the cause of his slight stoop. His doctors believed it was arrested but there was a serious question of whether his arduous new job might cause a recurrence.

This reservation on Herter's future has now been practically eliminated by the way he has held up and adjusted to the physical demands of the job. He makes it a point never to stand up more than 15 minutes at a time when he attends some embassy reception or party, his only concession to the ailment.

The demands of the job force him to average at least two or three such affairs per week. But he's relaxed about his enforced social activity and even seems to enjoy it. When the strain catches up or a touch of the old arthritis threatens, he'll just pop an aspirin in his mouth.

When Dulles is in town, Herter's schedule is from 8:30 in the morning to about 6:30 in the evening. When Dulles is gone, he makes it a point never to stand up more than 15 minutes at a time when he attends some embassy reception or party, his only concession to the ailment.

True, official statements will stress the threat of more inflation. Prices of many goods and services seem sure to go on rising. Most people have jobs and more money than last year—and maybe more debt too.

But on the psychological front both businessmen and stock market traders are paying more heed to the scattered signs of industrial slowdown and of cautious or reluctant buying.

Saugerties School Lists Schedules, Opens Wednesday

Time schedules of Saugerties Central School sessions which begin Wednesday, Sept. 4, were announced today by Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of Saugerties schools.

Pupils in kindergarten through six grades outside of the village will be notified by mail this week to which building they must report for classes. In the event they are scheduled to attend the same building as last year, no notice will be necessary, Dr. Morse said.

A redistribution of some Saugerties Central School pupils was planned in conjunction with the opening of the new 10-room Mt. Marion School. However, it was announced last week that the new school would not be ready for complete occupancy until November 1. Two rooms in the new building are expected to be ready to accommodate kindergarten and first grade in the north end of the school.

Until the new Mt. Marion building is fully ready for occupancy, three one-room schools that will be closed later in the year will be put to temporary use—West Camp, Blue Mountain and West Saugerties.

The board of education has arranged with the bus carriers to provide transportation in the mornings to the Blue Mountain and West Saugerties School buildings, but not in the afternoon, Dr. Morse said.

Transportation will not be provided in the afternoon because the buses will be busy transporting pupils from the high school at the closing hour. However, the feeder route on the Welcome road will operate fully on schedule.

The pupils attending Blue Wednesdays Freeman.

Mountain and West Saugerties schools who were previously obliged to walk will be transported to school in the morning and must walk home after closing hour. This will be a temporary arrangement for only a few weeks until the Mt. Marion School opens and pupils are redistributed.

Juana Manorska Offers Outdoor Dance Recital

WOODSTOCK — Under the stars in one of the most delightful spots in Woodstock, a private outdoor dance recital was given last Thursday night by Madame Juana Manorska and her dance group.

Nearly 80 invited guests gathered on the veranda and terrace and around the spacious lawn of the Manorska property at the end of Schoonmaker Lane and were thrilled by a dance presentation of unusual beauty.

As colored lights played on the wide natural stage, the dancers appeared like wood nymphs out of the encircling bushes to dance to the music of Debussy, Sibelius, Tomson, Chopin and St. Saens.

Dancers in the group numbers included Louise Brokenshaw, Angelica Caro, Renee Collins, Merrie Kramer, Mathilda Manuel, Claudia Munsell (age 11), Mary Frances Orser, Myrna Price and Jane Sewall. Madame Manorska herself favored the audience with a solo dance to the music of Chopin's "La Bacchante."

After the recital refreshments were served.

Sale of Articles Made By the Blind Nets $455

The annual sale of articles made by the blind held in Woodstock last Tuesday on the Lutheran Church lawn, totaled $455.82.

This was an increase of $66.80 over last year, and was the second largest sale ever held in Woodstock.

The sale was under the direction of Mrs. John Wolvek, general chairman; and committees from the following churches served: Dutch Reformed, Mrs. Ivan Freer; Methodist, Mrs. Clyde Elwyn; Lutheran, Miss Florence Peper; Episcopal, Mrs. Fennel Franckling; American Legion Auxiliary, Mrs. Ruth Bark.

Most Powerful CR Feature Receives Scant Attention

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The most powerful single feature in the Civil Rights Bill—expected to be passed soon by Congress—was one which received little attention and caused almost no fighting.

It's the broad authority of a federal judge to force compliance with his orders under civil contempt proceedings. Most of the attention and fighting were concentrated on what he could do under criminal contempt.

May Be Used Rarely

But it's this writer's guess that criminal contempt will be used rarely in comparison with the times judges will rely on their civil contempt powers to force compliance with their orders in voting rights cases.

This is an example of what a judge could do to a man accused in a voting rights case—if civil contempt of court for not carrying out a court order:

Suppose a judge in a Southern state orders Registrar Jones to let a Negro named Smith register to vote. The deadline for voting comes near and Jones hasn't complied. Then the judge:

1. Could try Jones—by himself and without a jury trial—for civil contempt.

2. He could slap Jones in jail without any fixed sentence. Jones could be jailed until he sends word to the judge he will comply.

No Limit to Fine

3. He could fine Jones up to any amount—there's no limit—to force his compliance. If Jones compiled, the judge could then remit the fine.

4. He could fine Jones day by day, for every day he does not comply.

5. He could award damages to Smith. This would probably come out of the fine imposed on Jones. But in this case—once the damages were awarded—Jones wouldn't get his money back even if he complied.

6. He could ask Jones to file a large bond to insure his compliance. For example, he could set the bond at $50,000. If Jones got a company or an individual to put up the bond, the company or individual would be pressuring him to comply.

Reason Is Simple

The reason is simple: If Jones didn't comply, the bond would be forfeited.

7. He could order a United States marshal to register Smith if Jones didn't comply by registering the man himself.

8. Or he could order Smith to go ahead and vote without being registered. In this case, no doubt, Smith's vote might not be counted.

But most southern states, like other states, have permanent registration.

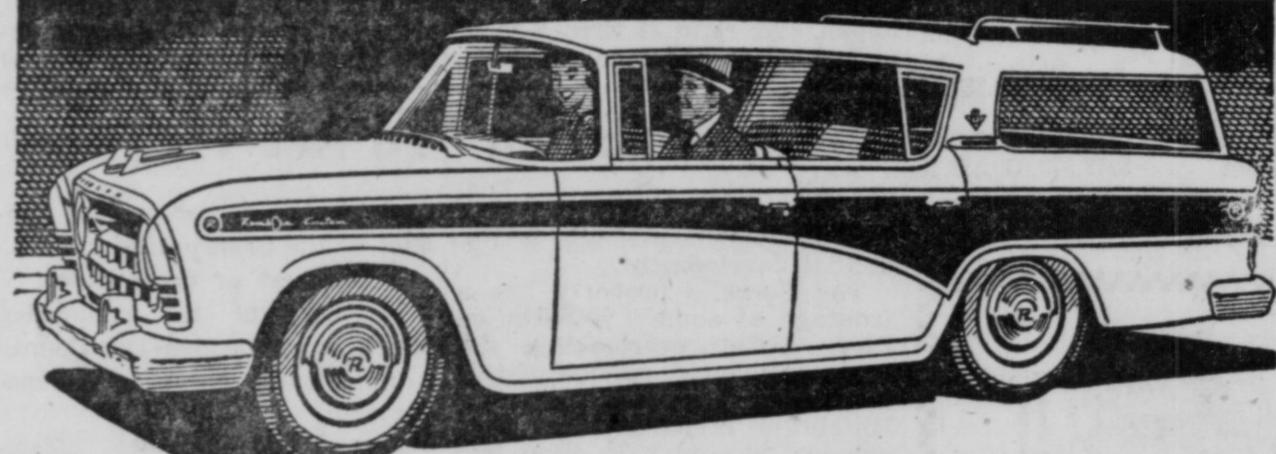

So if registrar Jones were from one of them—and disobeyed a court order to register Smith—under civil contempt proceedings he might have to stay in jail a long time.

Meets With IkeKnowland Calls Syria 'Serious'

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower reviewed the situation in Syria with Republican congressional leaders today. Afterward Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) sized up the picture as "serious."

Knowland told newsmen the matter of pro-Communist developments in Syria was brought up by one of the GOP leaders at their regular Tuesday morning conference with Eisenhower.

Without going into any detail regarding the discussion, Knowland reported that Eisenhower made a frank report on "the current situation in the Middle East," particularly with respect to Syria.

Asked whether the situation in Syria can be regarded as grave, Knowland replied:

"It certainly is a serious problem which has developed out there and no one knows what ultimate developments may ensue."

Replying to another question, Knowland said Eisenhower views the Syrian situation as an example of need for flexibility in operation of this government's foreign aid program.

AFL-CIO Group Files Own Case Against Hoffa

WASHINGTON — The AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee today filed its own charges against Teamsters vice president James R. Hoffa. Their nature was not specified in a committee announcement.

The announcement said the committee served upon the Teamsters Union a "report which includes charges concerning the activities" of Hoffa.

Based on Probe

"These charges were based primarily upon evidence and testimony before the McClellan committee," the announcement said.

Hoffa, midwest Teamsters boss and apparently in line to succeed to the union presidency, was a witness last week before the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ill.).

Hoffa repeatedly asserted inability to recollect events about which he was questioned. Finally, McClellan suspended the hearings with the tart comment that the "witness is memory."

The Senate Committee accused Hoffa of questionable actions in the handling of union funds, including a $50,000 loan to a race track. It also said he had borrowed $89,500 from employers with whom the union bargained collectively and from union subordinates.

Hits Local Ties

The Senate investigators contend also that Hoffa figured in the setting up of phony teamster locals in New York City in an effort to extend his power in the union, and allied himself with New York hoodlum Johnny Dio for the same purpose.

The committee set its next hearing on the Teamsters for Sept. 5 and 6, when it will continue probing all current charges against Teamster leaders, including Hoffa.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK — The stock market bounced back in fairly active trading early this afternoon after three straight daily declines.

Key stocks went ahead from fractions to around 2 points in a general recovery affecting most major divisions.

Aircrafts were higher as Soviet Russia's reported success with its intercontinental ballistic missile brought expectations of more future spending on defense in the United States.

Steels, oils, chemicals and copers also made strides. Motors showed sharp change except for Chrysler which rose more than a point.

Rails, which have sunk to new lows on average in the past two sessions, came back a little.

Congress

yesterday the Soviets are saying "They have completed the test necessary to construct an operational intercontinental ballistic missile."

Timing Is Noted

"They probably could have made this announcement some time ago but I believe it was timed for propaganda purposes in connection with the developments in Syria and for its effect on NATO operations," Jackson said.

"The Russians are engaging in ballistic blackmail, following up the same sort of gestures they made earlier against Norway, Britain and others of our allies. Nevertheless, their statement should not be dismissed as all propaganda."

Jackson, who said a year ago that the Russians were ahead of the United States in the over-all development of missiles, said he believes the contest to develop a missile of 5,000 mile range now is in the neck-and-neck stage.

Asked by a reporter if this meant the U. S. also has tested long-range missiles, Jackson said only that this country is making substantial progress but has not yet built operational missiles in either the intermediate or long ranges. An intermediate range missile is one capable of spanning 1,500 miles.

Viewed as Serious

Sen. Long (D-La.) said he regards the Soviet announcement as "a very serious matter."

"If it is true, it will require a complete re-evaluation of our defense plans," he said. "Any nation with a sufficient number of intercontinental missiles could deliver sudden death anywhere in the world."

Finger Lakes Area Moves To Prevent Rail Cutback

CANANDAIGUA — Several towns in the Finger Lakes area are rallying in an effort to prevent the New York Central Railroad from curtailing its passenger service.

About 15 mayors met here last night with railroad officials to discuss the Central's plans.

E. B. Flemming, the Central's superintendent in Syracuse told them the railroad planned to eliminate as much passenger service as required to wipe out its deficit.

He said the Central was losing 50 million dollars a year in the operation of its passenger routes.

About 10 days ago, the Central announced it would discontinue passenger service on the Auburn road Sept. 15.

The Auburn road runs between Syracuse and Rochester. Stops include Seneca Falls, Waterloo, Phelps, Auburn, Clifton Springs, Manchester, Chapin, Oak Corners and Canandaigua.

Mayors from all these towns filed a formal protest with the Public Service Commission and called for public hearings on the proposals.

Several other mayors indicated last night they would also ask the PSC to hold public hearings.

They pointed out that the towns of Phelps, Clifton Springs, Manchester and Chapin have no alternate public transportation.

Notes Arms Buildup
350 Red Advisors
On Military Now
In Syria: Report

LONDON — Diplomatic sources in London estimated today the Russians have 350 military advisers in Syria.

The diplomatic sources said Russia also is reported to have sent $3 million dollars worth of arms to the Arab nation. They said this was in addition to previous shipments worth $6 million dollars prior to last fall's invasion of Suez.

The sources said Syria's stockpile of Russian arms now includes 200 T34 tanks, 50 self-propelled guns, 200 armored troop carriers, 120 122 m.m. field guns, 10 anti-aircraft guns, 70 MIG15 and MIG17 fighter planes and an unspecified number of motor torpedo boats.

Subs, Planes Coming

They said more Communist arms, including two submarines and 120 more planes, are expected to be sent to Syria as a result of the visit of Syrian Defense Minister Khaled Al Azem to Moscow earlier this month.

A London newspaper correspondent reported from Damascus last week that thousands of Russian "volunteers" were pouring into Syria. The Soviet Communist Party organ Pravda today termed his account a "gross and dishonest fabrication."

In an editorial broadcast by Moscow Radio, Pravda said: "It is not the first time that American and British imperialists resort to lies and slander against the Soviet Union in order to cover up their provocations against the people of the Middle East."

American officials meanwhile were reported urging that Britain supply Jordan with powerful 52-ton Centurion tanks to meet a Jordanian request for heavy tanks and small arms.

Informants said last night Jordan, which borders on Syria, had asked the United States for such arms to meet any internal or external threats. They added that although the United States is providing Jordan with 10 million dollars in aid, it prefers to limit its military help to small arms and similar equipment.

The informants said Britain, which has supplied Jordan with tanks in the past, probably will agree to sell or give the Middle East nation several Centurions.

Craig, Baird Tie Again in TV Quiz

NEW YORK — Dairy farmer Harold Craig, of Granville, N. Y., and industrial consultant John Baird, of Los Angeles, played their second tie game last night on NBC-TV's "Twenty-One" quiz. When they continue on next Monday night's show, Craig will be ahead 11-10. The stakes are $1,500 a point in the difference between the scores.

Craig, 26, already has won $84.

He could win or lose as much as $31,500 next week.

Both Baird and Craig missed a question in last night's first game. The dairy farmer missed one part of a four-part question on comic strips. Baird incorrectly named William Jennings Bryan as Theodore Roosevelt's presidential opponent in 1904. The answer was Alton B. Parker.

Maine Cooks Are Proud of Their Tasty Potato Dishes

MAINE COOKS are extremely proud of their potato dishes, especially their delicious, tempting baked Katahdins.

NEA Food and Markets Editor CORRIN, Me.—With Millard Otto, chairman of the Maine Potato Commission, we drove along miles and miles of dark green potato fields covered with soft, snowy white blossoms.

Head of his own packing and shipping plant, he is a leader in market research and development of new potato products.

Most Maine growers prewash and prepak their potatoes. Many are going in for frozen French fries and instant flaked mashed potatoes.

Scientific ways of storing and mechanized harvesting are also part of the commission's development program. Many farmers alternate their seemingly endless fields with peas, beans and corn. Most of the cream-style canned corn served at American tables comes from these beautiful Maine hills.

We drove many more miles over the alluring countryside to Otisville for dinner at the Fred Culbert farm. Doris Culbert, the most famous cook in her county, is dedicated to cookery and collecting cookbooks. She has culinary reverence for the Maine potato.

Roast turkey, stuffing, brown gravy, baked or mashed potatoes, garden peas, corn-on-the-cob, mashed squash, shredded cabbage salad with sugar and vinegar, hot raised rolls, butter or margarine, hot gingerbread with whipped cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

From time to time I am asked what happened to the Indians around here. I do not know. The following from "True" magazine of September 1957 clears up part of the mystery.

It is from the "Man to Man" answers "by Robert E. Pinkerton;" which reads in part: There has been a colony of Indians in New York, they are mostly Mohawks, who originally came from upstate New York, and practically all are steel workers.

They are kept so busy by the building boom in New York, that Canadian Mohawks have also been recruited, but they weekend in Montreal.

One big apartment building in New York, houses at least half of the steel erection crew most of them being Mohawks. They live in a colony of about 700 in Brooklyn, have their favorite bar, "The Wigwam," where they often gather, and many own their own homes.

Also about 50 western Indians live in New York City: Cherokee, Modoc, Sioux, Pawnee and Winnebago tribes are represented. These are mostly college graduates and number among the nurses, accountants, and one psychiatrist. Others work in stores which sell products of the reservations. Perhaps some of these 700 will take part in the 1959 Hudson-Champlain celebration if the proper contacts can be made.

Although we see few horses on the streets of Kingston, the youngsters had the best examples of them at the Ulster County Fair. In years gone by horses were used for transportation and power and pleasure, like racing on land and ice.

Going back to the Kingston Argus of Wednesday, March 14, 1888, following item from the Woodstock news: "Cooper's Lake is situated about 3 miles from Woodstock village, and has been turned into a trotting course.

"On Wednesday last it was the scene of an exciting contest between a Kingston stepper and Vosburgh's "Dugy." There were about 200 spectators.

The purse consisted of the gate receipts and was won by "Dugy." Although "Dugy" has never been trained for the business, Kingston had got to show up something better, than they have yet to leave him in the background. There is talk of another contest with Kingston parties as Woodstockers have some fine and fast horses. "Dugy's" record is one mile in 2:20."

Eddyville may be interested in the following from the above 1888 paper: "Thomas Rosekrans has invented a double harness, which has no traces and no breeching and back straps. The drawing and backing by the horses is all done in front by a double neck yoke which is strapped fast to the pole of the wagon. Mr. Rosekrans invented the harness for plowing purposes. The harness can be used for road purposes also."

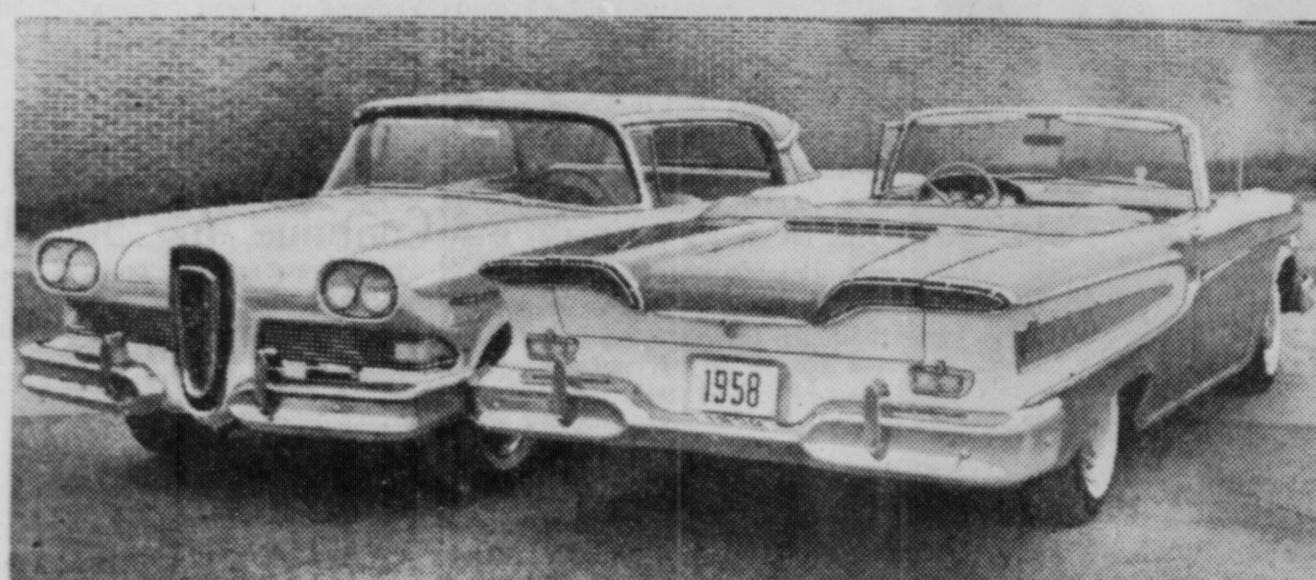

Other Eddyville items: William Van Tassel, of New Salem, will be captain of the steam yacht, Etie Wright, when navigation is open. Peter Atkins' new yacht, being built by John J. Baisden, has the deck completed. The yacht will be one of the finest when it is finished. Peter Atkins will be captain and owner. Melvin Dewitt of Rosendale, was the guest of Richard Shipman. Mr. Dewitt has been traveling 14 years with P. T. Barnum circus and this is his first time home. Mr. Dewitt left for New York City on Thursday last to return to Barnum's circus."

First Photos of the Edsel

JOINS THE FORD FAMILY—Just one month short of a full nine years after Henry Ford II proposed a new car line, Ford Motor Co. today unveiled its new line—the Edsel. Front and rear styling of the new car are shown in this photo of a Citation two-door hardtop and a Citation convertible. The car has a vertical grille and concave sculptured sides. The horizontal taillights blend into the flight deck luggage compartment lid to provide a solid bar of illumination on each side. Each bar is in two segments. Turn indicators and brake warning lights are in outer segment. The Edsel, a "medium price" car which will be available for public inspection Sept. 4, will have 18 models in four series—Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

NEW YORK (AP)—When the U. S. national tennis tournament gets under way at Forest Hills Friday, among the spectators will be one of the great stars of the sport in an earlier day.

"It'll be a busman's holiday for me," said Frank Hunter, who won the world's doubles titles in 1927 with Bill Tilden and was ranked by Tilden as among the 15 best tennis players of all time.

Although now past 60, Hunter still keeps an active interest in tennis, which he says has been "a wonderful calling card all my life."

Pros Playing Best

The pros today are playing the best tennis that has ever been played. The game is faster now because the whole emphasis is on play.

"The best of the modern players is 'Pancho' Gonzales, but I think that, on the record, Tilden was the greatest player the game has ever known, although he played a different type of game."

"A champion plays as well as it is necessary for him to play in order to win, and Tilden was a champion who could meet any emergency."

Hunter, now president of "21" Brands, Inc., a liquor concern, was a stocky, aggressive player himself, famous for his powerful forearm smash. He ranked second to Tilden in 1927 through 1929, quit the game in 1936.

Won't Play Past Peak

"I gave up when I found I was six inches short on the overhead shots and missing the long reach shots by a foot," he said, smiling. "It's not much fun to continue playing a sport when you know you've passed your peak."

"I think that is the mistake some players make now. They stay in competitive tennis so long after it's clear they are not really going anywhere."

Afer putting away his tennis racquet, Hunter turned to the golf club and the rifle. He still has trouble breaking 80 on the links, but has become one of the nation's more renowned bird and big game hunters.

Certain Conditions

Soviet warships in the Black Sea can pass through the Turkish Straits under certain conditions provided by the Montreux Convention of 1936. Soviet warships must pass through one at a time and Soviet submarines must travel only in daytime and on the surface.

Saul Says:

We Certify That
doesn't mean anything anymore!

Today, don't buy tires just because someone says they are "first line" tires . . . it really doesn't mean anything any more.

The two largest tire manufacturers in the U. S. have stopped classifying any of their tires as "first line." Why? Because the "first line" of one brand may be of entirely different quality from the so-called "first line" tire of another brand. Today, leading tire manufacturers sell you tires according to the quality and the price, and not according to "first line," "second line," or "third line."

Don't buy tires because somebody says they're "first line" or "premium" . . . just remember, those so-called "first line" tires might not be as good quality as somebody else's tires that might be called "second" or "third line."

When you go to buy tires, and you want to get the most for your money, go to a tire dealer you know and trust, and buy the brand in which you have confidence.

Republican Club Holds Family Day

More than 150 persons attended the first annual Family Day Barbecue sponsored by the Town of Ulster Republican Club, which was held at St. Liberator's Field in East Kingston Sunday, Aug. 25. A chicken dinner was served.

During the event, Francis J. McCullough, president, said, "It was indeed gratifying to see such an excellent turnout, despite the weather, of people from all points of the Town of Ulster."

The success of the barbecue was only made possible through the long hours and hard work devoted by the workers and also the good people who made donations. Because of the success of this function it will, undoubtedly, be made an annual event of the club. I wish to thank the workers, donors and all those who attended, including the several local Town officials," he concluded.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 5, at the Ulster Hose No. 5, firehouse. It will include a talk on the importance of primary day and town caucuses. The name of the speaker and other details of the meeting will be announced.

Public is cordially invited to attend this next open meeting.

Comedy at Hyde Park Opens With Levene In Starring Role

A light, entertaining vehicle entitled, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," opened Monday at Hyde Park Playhouse.

Portraying a convincing devil in modern clothes was Sam Levene. The glamorous touch was supplied by Roxanne, noted television model and actress.

The play, slow moving in parts, does provide enough humor to keep it alive and moving. Dennis Cooney, who is cast as the bewildered youth who sells his soul in 10 per cent installments to the enticing Levene, did a competent job.

Also appearing in the cast were Tony Mazzadra, Alan Manson, Harold Gary, Bilo Sotera and Norris Branstrom.

The play, written by George Arrol, will continue on stage through Saturday. There will be two performances on Saturday at 6 p. m. and 9 p. m.

Sets are by John Bolt. Reese Sarda is stage manager.

Dear Mrs. Post: The other afternoon I went to visit a friend with my three children. This friend has only one child. We were sitting out on the porch when the ice-cream man came through. Of course all the children asked for ice cream. I said "no" to my children as they had had ice cream earlier that day and I don't believe in giving them ice cream every time they ask for it. My friend, however, gave her child money to buy ice cream for himself, and my children had to sit and watch him eat it. I thought she showed very bad manners by doing this and should have waited until we had gone to get him ice cream. What is your opinion?

Answer: As the ice-cream man probably does not go by often, I do not think your friend should be criticized for letting her child buy his ice cream. I do think, however, that she should have told him to put it in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator to eat later.

This Is Not A Signature

Dear Mrs. Post: How should a married woman's name be written in a register that is sometimes provided by the funeral directors as a record to turn over to the family later?

Answer: Write your name whichever way the family knows you. If Mary Smith might confuse them, then write Mrs. John Smith. It is not the same as signing a message, in which case of course it would be improper to use your title as part of your signature.

A Widow's Wedding Announcement

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter, a widow of three years, is about to marry again. She wishes to send out wedding announcements. Is this proper for a second marriage? If so, should I announce her marriage or does she announce her own marriage? She is in the late thirties.

Answer: It will be better for her to send them out—Mrs. Jane Brown and Mr. William Smith announce their marriage on Wednesday the third of May at Tuxedo Park, New York.

Wrist Watch With Evening Clothes

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is correct to wear a wrist watch with a tuxedo or tails?

Answer: An inconspicuous flat one—yes . . .

Is it proper to wear veils in the evening? Is card leaving still the proper thing to do? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Leaflet E-17, "An Etiquette Test," answers these questions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

ELMER DICKEY

The Oteora Summer Chorus will present its season's concert on Thursday, Aug. 29, at 8:30 p. m., in the Oteora Central School Auditorium.

The guest soloist will be the famous Negro tenor, Elmer Dickey, who has won fame under such directors as Leopold Stokowski with his performance in "Carmina Burana" at Carnegie Hall. His other professional appearances include the Standard Oil Radio Program, in Germany on the first German telecast, and in numerous oratorio performances in Massachusetts.

Texas-born, Mr. Dickey received his early education in California. A graduate of Boston University, Mr. Dickey has studied under Roland Hayes, Alleen C. Lannon, and Julia Dobriner. This surely will be an evening to remember.

This is the fifth concert season for the chorus, but it is the first time the group has presented such an outstanding professional artist as Mr. Dickey.

The Oteora Summer Chorus is made up of 55 members, under the direction of Rolland E. Heermann. Marjorie Keator is the accompanist.

Tickets may be purchased at the door on the evening of the performance.

Keep your face to the sunshine and you cannot see the shadow.

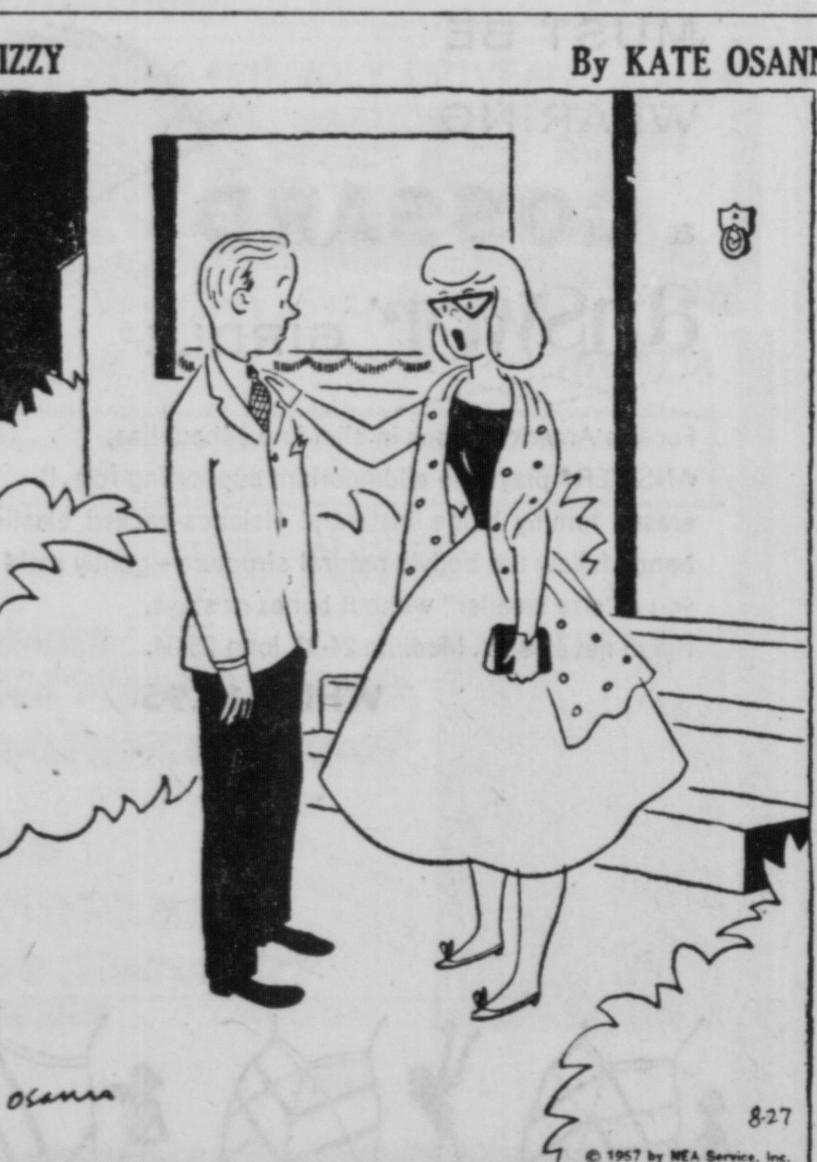

—Helen Keller

In a school examination the examiner put the question: "What is false doctrine?" Up went a little boy's hand and there came the answer: "Please, sir, it's when the doctor gives the wrong stuff to the people who are sick."

This 'n' That

When I was young and in my prime I weighed one-forty all the time. But recently (it's sad but true!) I tipped the scales at one-six-two. Of course, I'm over 50 now. I don't feel trees or spade or plow. So, fearful of the family's mirth, I sought reduction of my girth. I read an ad on exercise: "Watch pounds roll off you! Big surprise!" I sent three dollars for the course (it should have killed a healthy horse!). I had to stand upon my head. Do seven cartwheels o'er the bed. One hundred push-ups noon and night. Ten chin-ups by the dawn's cold light. Power! I gained such pep and power! — Consumed two sirloin steaks a day, three quarts of milk (grade double-A).

TWO WORDS: The husband is actually the bond of the house, according to the derivation of this word. Husband comes from the Anglo-Saxon "hus bond" which means house bond (bond meant serv or slave originally).

Why We Say...

HUSBAND

Progress seldom ends until a person is completely satisfied.

"It wasn't your fault, Arnold! According to the law of averages I was bound to have an evening like this some time!"

I weighed myself and — man alive! I'd fallen off to one-eight-five! — Karl Flaster.

A tourist driving along through the country noticed a farmer and his little daughter sitting under tree. The tourist stopped and admired the little girl.

It is better to understand a little, than to misunderstand a lot. — Anatole France.

Tourist—What is her name? lot. — Anatole France.

Farmer—Amalasynta. Tourist—Isn't that a rather long name?

The farmer looked at the tourist with contempt.

Farmer—Listen, son, we're not city folks—We've got time.

Tourist—What is her name?

President Raps Congress Adding Unbudgeted Items

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has criticized Congress for including unbudgeted projects for Army Engineers in an $858,094,323 public works appropriation bill providing funds for water projects.

The President chided the legislators in a statement yesterday announcing he had signed the appropriation bill despite his objections to some provisions.

The total in the bill is about 2 per cent below Eisenhower's request, but Congress included money for some projects not listed in the President's budget. The funds are for the current fiscal year which began last July 1.

In his statement, Eisenhower said that for the third successive year, Congress has voted new, unbudgeted projects for the engineers, increasing the government's commitments over the three years by 2½ billion dollars.

Hampers Economy

Eisenhower said the congressional action hampered administration efforts to maintain economic stability and fiscal solvency.

In addition to the money for the engineers and the Reclamation Bureau, other funds in the bill include $1,930,000 for the Southeastern Power Administration, $2,480,000 for the Southwestern Power Administration, $30,668,000 for the Bonneville Power Administration, and $6,815,000 for metropolitan expenses.

New York State flood-control and navigation projects include: Great Lakes — Hudson River Waterways, $190,000; Barcelona Harbor, $21,000; Endicott, Johnson City and Vestal, $1,400,000; Jones Inlet, $305,000; Oswego Harbor, $400,000; Staten Island Rapid Transit Bridge, $1,700,000, and Wellsville, $150,000.

The bill also carries one million dollars for the Allegheny River Reservoir, also known as the Kinzua Dam, in northwestern Pennsylvania and Western New York.

Can Determine Sex Of Baby in 3rd Week

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — The sex of a baby now can be determined as early as its third week of development in the womb, a scientist from the University of Iowa reported today.

This shortens the time of recognition by about a month, and brings scientists closer to the point where they may be able to detect the changes which produce children with outward physical sex abnormalities, Dr. Ernst Witschi told the American Institute of Biological Sciences.

Dr. Witschi, using the technique of Dr. Murray Barr, a Canadian nerve specialist, was able to identify the sex of embryos less than an inch long. He did this by taking samples of the embryonic skin and nerves and finding differences in their chromatin, a substance which plays a part in cell division and growth.

If researchers can find the very beginning of sex changes in the development of the embryo, they may be able to do something about preventing physical sex abnormalities, Dr. Witschi reported.

Dutchess Fair Final Trip for Boys of Y

Members of the Boys Division of the YMCA will end their field trips for the summer by visiting the Dutchess County Fair, it was announced today.

The trip is scheduled for Wednesday, starting from the YMCA by bus at 9:30 a.m.

Before returning home they enjoyed a swim at Spring Lake, upper Red Hook, and lunched at Hyde Park.

Smoking Machine Aids In Search For Cancer Link

BUFFALO (AP) — The largest and only fully-automatic smoking machine in the world is helping scientists here in the search for a relationship between smoking and lung cancer.

The machine, installed recently at the Roswell Park Memorial Institute, smokes an estimated 600 cigarettes every ten minutes or an average of 100 cartons per day. The machine has a rotating drum with six rows holding 100 cigarettes each.

The drum rotates slowly, completing a full rotation every five minutes. Compressed air blows the cigarettes into place.

The cigarettes then pass a "puffing station" where the machine "takes a drag." At the end of five puffs, one rotation, the machine knocks the ashes off.

The cigarettes are ejected by compressed air after ten puffs. The drum, however, still continues to operate as new cigarettes are blown into place starting the cycle all over again.

Tars Extracted

The smoke which is inhaled at the puffing stations is drawn through tubing into a large refrigerator tank with five condensing units to extract tars from the smoke.

The tar is then painted on the skin of mice to determine its cancer-producing properties.

"At the present time, skin painting on mice is the only method by which cancer producing activity of cigarette tar can be conclusively demonstrated," said Dr. Nathaniel Back, cancer research scientist at Roswell Park.

The only human assistance the machine receives is from a person who opens the cigarette cartons, removes the cigarettes and dumps them into a hopper.

The actual idea for such a "mass cigarette smoker" was conceived by professors at New York University, Back said.

It was built especially for Roswell Park by Process Instruments Co. of Brooklyn.

Urge Seaway Check Before Passing Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.) suggests that Congress take a "new long look" at the St. Lawrence Seaway before appropriating additional funds for the project.

Saylor's remarks, inserted yesterday in the Congressional Record, were directed against what he termed "attempts to promote government subsidization in substitution for the policy of selfliquidation, through tolls, that was agreed upon when the seaway was authorized by Congress."

The Moors gave Gibraltar the name Gebel-el-Tarik (Rock of Tarik) and Gibraltar is a corruption of that name.

Initiate Boys Into Manhood

Primitive Rites Urged To Curb Delinquency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sociologists were told today that juvenile delinquency might be curbed if American society adopted some equivalent of the rites with which primitive tribes initiate boys into manhood.

Arthur Niederhoffer of the New York City Police Academy and Prof. Herbert A. Bloch of Brooklyn College described such primitive puberty rites as scarification (marking with scars), tattooing, trial by ordeal, and a host of other painful and exotic practices.

Discipline Young

In a paper prepared for the American Sociological Society, Niederhoffer and Bloch said that through these customs certain societies "have laboriously contrived to discipline their young for the great adventure" of manhood.

"When adolescent youths, as in our own society, find it difficult to enter the adult status," Niederhoffer and Bloch said, "...because of the lack of an orderly facilitating process, they will attempt to embrace the symbolic equivalents of the adult status denied them."

"Thus can be explained the adolescent drinking, sexual escapades, wild automobile rides ... which to the youth at any rate appear to be the prerogatives of the mature adult."

It also would raise from 10 to 20 years the penalty for sending matter through the mails with intent to kill or injure.

Officers Benjamin Osterhoudt and Frank Stip, who investigated, said the Wengert car was towed from the scene.

Sugar Ray Hints He'll Go Through With Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—While money-man Jim Norris lay in a hospital bed, Sugar Ray Robinson hinted today that he was ready to go through with his middleweight championship defense against Carmen Basilio on Sept. 23.

"I have high hopes that we will come to some understanding," said Robinson, who has been feuding with Norris' International Boxing Club over the question of the boxer TV.

Deal Confirmed

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, confirmed that Robinson said he wanted to make a deal.

"If he is sincere," said Gibson, "I think we can reach some agreement in a few days."

The IBC signed with Theater Network Television (TNT). Robinson claimed he could make more money if the theater TV rights were awarded to Teleprompter, a rival of TNT. He maintained that, according to his contract with the IBC, no theater TV agreements were to be signed without his consent.

Not Consulted

He was not consulted before the IBC signed with TNT, he said.

"But right now my main concern is for Jim's welfare," Sugar Ray added. "I'm sure everything will be all right. Perhaps we can combine the theaters of the two companies."

Norris was stricken with food poisoning yesterday just as he was about to go into conference with Robinson in an effort to reach an agreement. He was hospitalized and will be kept under observation for a couple of days, according to Dr. Vincenzo Nardiello, of the New York State Athletic Commission.

Under Nervous Strain

"He has been under a great nervous strain," commented Dr. Nardiello.

Before he became ill, Norris attended a meeting of the State Athletic Commission and Robinson, Commission Chairman Julius Heldman said his group had no jurisdiction over the TV deals, but that Robinson would have to meet Basilio on the appointed date for the designated title—period.

In Alexandria Bay, N. Y., Basilio, who has become the forgotten man in the case, took it all calmly.

Magic Spell Pick at Spa

SARATOGA SPRINGS (AP)—Six fillies and mares were scheduled to meet today in the $6,000 Groversville - Johnstown Purse, highlight of the Saratoga Race Track card.

White Oaks Stables Magic Spell, at 101 pounds the lightweight in the small field for the mile, was the early favorite. H. E. Jackson's Nasrina was top weighted at 117 pounds.

Long Shot Spinaway Victor

The extreme outsider in a field of nine fillies won the 66th Spinaway Stakes yesterday. The favorite finished last.

Sequoia, ridden by Bobby Sasser, finished a length and a half in front of George D. Widener's Armoril. Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow's Bridgewater was third.

Owned by Claiborne Farm, Sequoia covered the six furlongs in 1:12:45 and paid $58.30.

The 2-1 favorite, Pocahontas, apparently disliked the muddy track.

Old Race

The Spinaway is the oldest race for 2-year-old fillies on the continent.

Apprentice Frank Lovato will ride Magic Spell in the Groversville-Johnstown. Lovato rode the 3-year-old to an easy victory here two weeks ago.

Willie Boland will ride Nasrina, which placed fourth in the $20,000 Distaff Handicap at Belmont Park.

Calhoun Just Too Tough For Giambra

Calhoun Just Too Tough For Giambra

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Anyone wanting to know how tough middleweight Rory Calhoun is should ask San Francisco's Joey Giambra.

Giambra, who has won nine major county titles and took the Woodstock bauble in 1954-55, was upended, 2 and 1, by youthful Eric Knutson in a first-round match.

Giambra, who has won nine major county titles and took the Woodstock bauble in 1954-55, was upended, 2 and 1, by youthful Eric Knutson in a first-round match.

Calhoun's toughest in the middleweight division," the hand-some Giambra said after taking a 10-round beating from the White Plains, N. Y., Negro last night. "He takes a good punch and hits hard. And that's what makes a champion."

Calhoun, 22, ranked fifth in his division, a step below Giambra, started slow but caught up in the fourth round. He connected repeatedly with rights to the head. After three good rights, he pushed Giambra, 1½ pounds heavier at 160, and Joey went down. Referee Jack Downey called it a push.

Calhoun, using that big right again in the fifth, had Giambra backing up. In the ninth, Calhoun smacked the loser eight times in a row with uppercuts.

The no-radio, no-television fight drew 8,796 customers who paid $41,762. The net was $36,181.

Promoter Bennie Ford promptly announced plans to work up a bout between Calhoun and Joey Giardello, the No. 3 middleweight, or perhaps a rematch with Giambra.

The 36-hole championship flights are scheduled Sunday, Sept. 1.

Middletown Track Sets Holiday Racing Card

As a pre-Labor Day holiday program, Victory Speedways in Middletown has scheduled a 50-lap championship stock car race Saturday night on the half-mile dirt track at the Orange County fairgrounds.

A host of regular favorites will be competing in the derby with the top finishers being credited with double points in driver standings.

Heading the group will be popular Ray Brown of White Plains. Other well-knowns include Otto Harwi, Ken Werner, Charles South, Sonny Strupp, Carl Van Horn, Blackie Reider, to name a few.

Armstrong Wins 10th Bout In Row

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gene (Ace) Armstrong, a shifty young Elizabeth, N. J., middleweight, counted 10 straight victories today—a clean record since he turned professional.

Armstrong doesn't have much of a punch—he has yet to register a knockout—but he is a clever boxer. Last night, he outpointed Rudy Sawyer of New York, in the feature 10 at St. Nicholas Arena.

Sawyer, who has a reputation as a puncher, had won nine bouts and been held to only one draw before he became a competitor at the hands of Armstrong.

The bout was fairly close, with both fighters working on the body, for the first six rounds. But in the seventh, Armstrong began to score with combinations to the head and moved in front.

Referee Mark Conn had Armstrong in front, 5-4. Judge Artie Schwartz saw it 7-2 and Judge Joe Angelo scored it 8-2, both in favor of Armstrong. The winner weighed 151, Sawyer 148.

Boice, Raichle In Semi-Finals

Four-time champion Alvin Boice is scheduled to play Clarence (Dubby) Raichle in one half of the Twaalikill Club's championship flight semi-finals. The other bracket awaits the result of a quarter final round contest between Lou Smith and Judge Louis G. Bruhn.

The winner will play the Smith-Bruhn match goes against George Hughes, defending champion. Hughes has won the crown the last two years and is also a four-time winner.

Raichle won his quarter finals match with Dr. Rodney Ball, 1 up. Boice was extended to edge Dick Overbagh, 1 up, after trailing by two holes at the end of 10. Hughes turned back the spirited challenge of George Schneider, 2 and 1.

The Twaalikill finals are scheduled Saturday over the 36-hole route.

Feel Red Fleet To Impress Arabs

LONDON (AP)—Some British newspapers speculated today that the blacked-out movement of two Soviet warships through the Straits of Gibraltar might herald a Red fleet being sent to the east Mediterranean to impress the Arab states.

The ships, the 15,450-ton cruiser Mikhail Kutuzov and an unidentified destroyer, sailed into the Mediterranean early yesterday without navigation lights. The Russians have said the vessels are on their way to Albania for a courtesy visit.

Travel Service Has Office Here On Pearl Street

A branch of the Fugazy Travel Bureau, Inc., reportedly America's oldest travel agency, is now open at 2 Pearl Street.

Associated in the new venture are Raymond Garraghan, William E. Gaffken, John L. Larkin, Arthur A. Davis Jr. and Robert B. O'Reilly.

The new service will be under the directorship of James McCullough, a Fugazy representative, who has had 12 years of experience with travel agencies throughout the world.

Spokesmen for the branch told The Freeman today that prospective travelers from the Kingston area were assured of top business and pleasure travel service at the local branch.

More Trips Are Made

It was pointed out that the continuing boom in travel by Americans—it will reach a fantastic total of 15 billion dollars in 1957—demands that communities of Kingston's importance have the services of an experienced and worldwide organization.

"Americans are becoming veteran globetrotters in ever-increasing numbers and their enhanced knowledge of the four corners of the world and their requirements when they travel are becoming ever more exacting. The citizenry of Kingston have boarded planes and ships for hundreds of distant and exotic places and it looks as though everyone will have been beyond the borders of the United States on a vacation or business trip before many more years go by."

The Fugazy family is no stranger to Kingston. For many years they have had a home in Windham and have done their shopping and marketing in Kingston. Their president, William Denis Fugazy, was born in Windham. As a result of this intimate knowledge of Kingston, they have long wanted to open a branch in this thriving city. A long friendship with Garraghan finally ripened into the new office which opens August 26.

"Fugazy Travel Bureau, Inc., America's oldest travel agency and the center of a web of offices and agents in all the principal cities of the world, has recognized the importance of the Kingston travel market by opening their latest branch office here. Founded in the city of New York by a Fugazy forebear almost 100 years ago, the firm is now under the direction of William Denis Fugazy, president, and Louis V. Fugazy, chairman. Also associated with the firm now is Humbert "Jack" Fugazy, a famous sports promoter of the 1920's who was Tex Rickard's only serious rival in those halcyon days of the million dollar gates.

is staffed by almost 100 people including experts in every mode of transportation, hotels, and tourist attractions from Tom's River to Timbuktu.

"Very few people know that the services of a travel agent are free. The new Kingston office will make hotel, plane, ship, car rental reservations at no cost to the Kingston community.

As official agents of all airlines, steamship lines and hotels, the new office will write your tickets as you stand by. The prices are identical with those that the airlines and steamship lines charge at their own sales offices."

Films Available

Garraghan said today that the branch offers its cooperation in securing travel films, travel lecturers and other entertaining travel material for any of the local service or civic clubs.

The office is also anxious to promote tourism within the Kingston area and will cooperate fully with any of the hotels and resorts in the area so that they may be better represented nationally through widespread Fugazy connections, Garraghan said.

He said it is the hope of the new service that they will be able to offer package vacations which will include Kingston resorts and services and thus bring more of the lucrative vacation dollars into the coffers of Kingston merchants.

The name "cantaloupe" came from the castle of Cantaloupe, in Italy, where they first were grown in Europe.

Prince Sadruddin Weds London Model

BELLERIVE, Switzerland (AP)—Aly Khan's younger brother, Prince Sadruddin, today married exotic London model Nina Dyer in a school house in this Lake Geneva village.

Mayor Emile Jacques performed a civil ceremony in his second floor office in the school building as the excited children romped in the corridor. The school term started last week but little work was done today.

Nina and Sadruddin sat in oak arm chairs beneath a picture of contented cows munching grass in a pasture as the prince placed a diamond circlet on her finger and the mayor pronounced them man and wife.

After the civil service, the wedding party drove to Sadruddin's $750,000 chateau nearby for a Moslem religious ceremony.

Soviet Bid for More Air Traffic Linked With Flights to N. Y.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. officials said today Russia may be bidding for more of the world's commercial air traffic with the proposed flight of two Soviet TU104 jet airliners to New York next month.

The State Department yesterday made public a note authorizing the flights to bring the Soviet delegation from Moscow to the 12th United Nations General Assembly, opening Sept. 17.

Apparently the Russian jets will have to land at a military field in the New York area.

The big new TU104s are the only commercial jet planes operating regularly in the world today. The British flew DeHavilland Comets successfully for two years, but after a couple of accidents in 1954 they were scrapped. The French Caravelle is not yet in regular use, and British and American jet liners are at least 18 months away from delivery.

The authority added that it had received no requests for landing permission either from the State Department or Russia. The department did not indicate where the planes might land.

Russian military planes have on a few occasions landed on U. S. soil. One landed at San Jacinto, Calif., in 1937 after a nonstop flight from Moscow.

Theft of tools and other items valued at more than $300 from a shed on the property of the Hudson Cement Corp., Steep Rocks, was reported to the local police this morning.

Officers Albert Hutton and Edward Edwards, who investigated said that besides a box of tools, valued at $300, a grease gun, miscellaneous tools, flares and a truck battery, were missing.

Some of the items, it was noted, were taken from trucks parked in the area. The box of tools was owned by Angelo Pecchio, of Suffern.

Entrance to the shed was gained through the breaking of a hasp on a lock, police said.
